

Francisco Quintana
General Manager, McDonald's 50th Anniversary Restaurant

In 1990, Francisco came to Chicago from Guerrero, Mexico. He began his McDonald's career as a maintenance crew person at the Des Plaines Oasis restaurant. Francisco held several restaurant positions over the course of the year while going to evening school to learn English. In 2001, Francisco worked his way up the ranks and became a Manager Trainee at another nearby McDonald's.

Over the years, Francisco gained relevant experience by working at a variety of McDonald's restaurants and quickly assumed the position of Restaurant Manager at the former Rock n' Roll McDonald's.

Francisco has made a great impression on customers in the Chicago area. He was awarded the Outstanding Store Manager Award for his continuous efforts at the Rock n' Roll location and worked at the restaurant until the doors officially closed for its rebuild on the morning of July 19, 2004.

Today, after 15 years of McDonald's service, Francisco proudly serves as General Manager for the stunning McDonald's 50th Anniversary Restaurant located at 600 N. Clark.
